Now sum-mer com-eth I with staff in hand will

4 5 6

hie me to the sab-bath of her joys.----- To heath-y spots and the un-

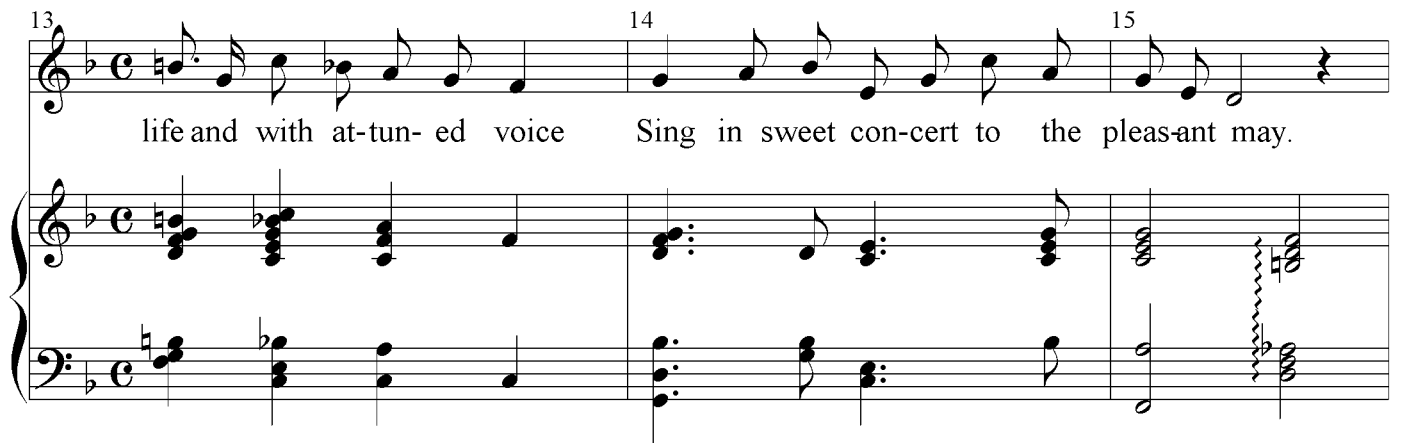

7 8 9

brok-en land of wood-land her-i-tage un-known to noise and toil -----

10 11 12

Save many a play-ful band of danc-ing in-sects that well un-der-stand the sweets of life and with at-tun-ed voice Sing in sweet con-cert to the pleas-ant may.

13 14 15

16 17 18

There by a lit-tle bush I'll list-ning rest to hear the night-in-gale a lov-er's lay chant by his mate who builds her care-less nest of oak-en leaves on thorn stumps moss'd and 22 23 24 25

19 20 21

grey, Feel-ing with them I too am tru-ly bless'd By mak-ing sab-baths of each com-mon day.
